

"Recent Research in Hmong Studies: Presentations of Works from the Hmong Studies Journal"

Monday, February 20, 2006

11 a.m. - 1 p.m.

Location: Nolte Center for Continuing Education, 125,
University of Minnesota, Twin Cities Campus

This special session will include presentations of recent research in Hmong Studies from the recently printed Volume 6 of the Hmong Studies Journal, the only peer-reviewed academic journal devoted to Hmong Studies (www.hmongstudies.org)

- ✚ Dr. Mark E. Pfeifer (Editor of Hmong Studies Journal and Director, Hmong Resource Center Library of the Hmong Cultural Center), "Overview of the Hmong Studies Journal and its Contribution to Scholarship related to Hmong."
- ✚ Dr. Dia Cha (Saint Cloud State University), "Hmong and Lao Refugee Women: Reflections of a Hmong-American Woman Anthropologist."
- ✚ Dr. Robert Entenmann (St. Olaf College), "The Myth of Sonom, the Hmong King."
- ✚ Dr. Daniel Detzner (University of Minnesota), "Immigrant Family Strengths: A Comparison of Hmong and Somali Families."
- ✚ Dr. Zha Blong Xiong (University of Minnesota), "Linking Parent-Adolescent Relationships to Adolescent Problem Behavior in Hmong Families."

Co-sponsored by the Asian American Studies Program and the Institute for Advanced Study of the University of Minnesota and the Hmong Cultural Center. Questions? Please contact editor@hmongstudies.org